WASHINGTON, May 3. This venerable statesman and patriot is drawing rapidly to the close of his mortal career, it is not expected that he can live over three days longer; his family has been sent for. The Republic, of this morning, says that his disease has assumed a more violent type; and that his most sanguine friends have abandoned all hopes of his recovery; on Friday night he was much troubled with a cough, which has since then been gradually increasing, so that the sage of Ashland may now be con-sidered fast approaching his end.

NEW YORK, May 7. A remarkable statement appears in the London yesterday. Prussia, and Russia, in the event of Louis Napoleon assuming the title of Emperor. Substance is that Prince Schwarzenburgh had addressed a circular to Euaopean courts, expressing his conviction of Napoleon about to erect an Imperial throne; adding that Austria felt no alarm in advocating claims of the President to friend-ship and allegiance to conservative governments. Prussia answered this circular on the 18th, and Russia on the 29th of February. The tener of both replies is that Times, respecting the course to be pursued by Austria, Prussia, and Russia, in the event of Louis Napoleon asthe 29th of February. The tenor of both replies is, that the two powers looked upon the design neither with favor nor hostility; that they believe he is disposed to the foreign policy of his uncle, and is now aiming to separate the powers in order to profit hereafter by that there powers, acting in concert, could keep him in check. Russia and Prussia, however, would recognize him as Emperor if he was elected to that office. But merely as an elective monarch. Not as the founder of Napoleonic dynasty. He stated that that office. Scretary Sharman of Michigan.

Governor Wood, of Ohio, in his Amunal Message, Jan., 1852, remarks. "It is admitted to be the most valuable work of the kind extended by the learned men both here and in Europe; and its general use in our schools would break down all provincualisms, so to speak and produce uniformity and elegance in the use of our language. Words would then be used by every one in the same sense in which they are defined by that able lexicographer."

MORE S. 180. Mesers. S. A. Weaver & Co.,—Gentlemen: In relation to my wife, I would say that from childhood she has been afflicted with a Humor. About twenty years since it appeared in a very distressing form of Erysipelas, at first in a spot of a bright charry color on the side of the face, accompanied with a painful sensation, similar to that produced by fire. From this point it spread over the whole face, which became so swollen that for several days she was chirely BLIND, and so disfigured that her most intimate acquaintances did not recognize her. She had been in this situation three times in the last five years. Its effects sometimes appeared in small cracks in the skin, commencing back of the ears, thence extending over the sides of the head. So sore and painful were they, that at night it was impossible for her to allow them to touch the pillow. The discharge from these sores was so profuse that it frequently we through the dressings and run down the sides of the neck, and scaerid was it, that when it came in contact with the skin, the effect was the same as that of boiling water.

After any gentle exercise, especially in warm weather, parts of the body became covered with seaters desired.
